CITY DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

Candidates Chosen Unanimously--C. H. Ireland Re-elected Chairman.

The democratic convention was held last night at the courthouse. The convention was called to order by Chairman Ireland. Mr. J. S. Michaux and members of the city democratic press acted as secretaries.

C. H. Ireland was unanimously chosen as chairman for the ensuing year.

Reports from the different wards were received and confirmed by acclamation. The nominees for aldermen are as follows:

First Ward: B. H. Merrimon and T. M. Pickard.

Second: W. L. Frazier and W. F. Bogart.

Third: H. J. Elam and W. T. Sergeant.

Fourth: Neil Ellington and G. H. McKinney.

Fifth: E. E. Bain and John Lewis.

Sixth: W. D. Mendenhall and J. W. Merritt.

J. J. Nelson, the present incumbent, was nominated for Mayor by acclamation.

After speeches of acceptance the convention adjourned.

It will be observed that seven of the old board were renominated and five new men were selected. The general verdict is that the selections are good ones.

We hear it whispered around that there is likely to be an opposition ticket to part of the nominees; but the Telegram refuses to believe it. The writer does not believe that there is a democrat in Greensboro who would allow his name to be run in opposition to the regularly nominated and accredited candidates of the democratic party.

PORT CABANAS DESTROYED.

Her Fortifications Demolished By Sampson's Guns.

TROOPS ENROUTE TO TAMPA.

The Flying Squadron Still Lying at Hampton Roads—Troops Will Sail Wednesday.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM

On board the Flagship New York, April 30—The blockade continues as before. The New York lies to the westward of Havana. The entire coast of Cuba is being carefully patrolled by Spanish cavalry.

Captain Taylor, of the Indiana, held a long conversation today with Rear Admiral Sampson. The movements of the army are anxiously awaited. The weather is cool and the sea is a perfect calm; an ideal condition for military and naval operations.

The flagship has moved along the coast in the direction of Mariel, in the province of Pinar del Rio, where it is understood mines are being laid and that forts are being built at Mariel. Evidence of the construction of forts was plain to those on the flagship and Captain Sampson fired several shots over at the forts. There was no reponse. A strict watch is being kept so as to be prepared to resist any attack from torpedo boats.

ANOTHER FORT DESTROYED.

Key West, April 30—Rear Admiral Sampson, on board the flagship New York, shelled the fortifications at Port Cabanas today. This fort is located about thirty-five miles west of Havana harbor. Sampson decided to shell the fort after the gunners at the fortification had fired at the torpedo boat Ericsson. The torpedo boat Porter was given the honor of destroying the fort. Nobly did the Porter do her work and in exactly fifteen minutes the fort was a mass of ruins.

Key West, April 30—The firing of Port Cabanas on the flagship New York had no effect except to draw from the latter eleven retaliatory shots from her eight inch guns amidship. Seven of these shots fell precisely where they were intended as far as could be discerned by those aboard the ship. To all appearances the fortifications were completely destroyed and it is supposed that several Spaniards were killed.

TROOPS SAIL WEDNESDAY.

Washington, April 30—Arrangements for the transportation of from six to ten thousand troops have been practically completed. Nothing remains to be done except the carrying out of details. Troops will be ready to sail from Tampa on Wednesday. It is believed that Matanzas. Cardenas, or Sagua will be decided upon as a landing place.

President McKinley on Monday will nominate to the senate major generals and brigadier generals to command the volunteers. This is taken to mean that fighting will begin on the Island by May 5th.

STILL PERCHED.

Norfolk, April 30—The flying squadron has not yet sailed. Shore leave has been refused all men belonging to Schley's vessels.

MEANS OF NEGOTIATING.

Key West, April 30—Lieut. Whigong in Cuba, is trying to establish a means of negotiating between General Gomez and the United States.

TROOPS LEAVE.

Chattanooga, April 30—Enghteen hundred troops left Chicamauga today for Tampa. All the troops here are chafing under the restraint.

THE PARIS AT NEW YORK.

New York, April 30—The American liner Paris, which successfully escaped from a Spanish vessel off the English coast, arrived safely this morning.

COULDN'T PASS BLOCKADE.

Key West, April 30—Two Spanish gun boats attempted to run the blockade last night at Havana. Their attempt was discovered and the gun boats were repulsed by the battleship Iowa. General Blanco has established signal posts along all the coasts.

ALL AWAY AT LAST.

Washington, April 30—Official information received this morning states that two Spanish torpedo boats were detained at the Cape de Verde Islands yesterday. They left the islands this morning.

WANTS PROTECTION.

Key West, April 30—The schooner Solo, a fishing boat, asked to be seized by an American vessel. Accordingly the Dolphin seized her this morning. The schooner feared she might be pressed into the Spanish navy. Men were put aboard and she was taken to Key West.

BANCROFT SAILS.

Boston, April 30—The gunboat Bancroft sailed from here for Norfolk this morning with a full armament of guns and all necessary ammunition.

MINNEAPOLIS AT ROCKLAND.

Rockland, Maine. April 30—The Minneapolis came here and dropped anchor this morning.

WILL PATROL COAST.

New York, April 30—The St. Louis and the Harvard left here this morning. It is supposed that they will patrol the coast.

ENROUTE TO TAMPA.

Jacksonville, April 30—Forty-five carloads of troops passed through this city last night enroute to Tampa, Fla.

NO FEAR OF BOMBARDMENT.

Coast Towns Are Safe Were Spain's Navy Doubled.

The Philadelphia Press publishes the following sensible editorial:

"Of all the scares that the prospect of war has called into pernicious activity the fear of the coast towns of the United States that they are in danger of immediate, intermediate or remote bombardment is the most baseless. Aside from the usages of warfare which would normally protect unfortified towns from attack, bombardment by Spanish vessels presupposes so many "ifs" as to put the likelihood of any such incident in the Hispano-American conflict in the realm of the highly improbable. This scare grows out of the other scare that is due to a disposition on the part of many to view Spain's navy on paper as if it were full equipped and mobilized in United States waters, which is not the case.

"If the Spanish navy were double its present known strength, if it could miraculously transfer itself across the Atlantic ocean, if coal would fall on its decks like manna on the camp of the Isaelites, if the United States had no navy, if this and if that were true, and a dozen more ifs were conditions, not fancies, then our coast towns might concern themselves. But, as a matter of immediate fact, the situation is just the opposite of this. Spain has actually taken what few first-class men-of-war it had out of American waters. Whatever fleet it sends over—if it ever gets over—will be far inferior to the mobilization of the United States in number of vessels, tonnage, guns, resources as to coal, ammunition, provisions and personnel and repairs. This being the case, so outnumbered, so outclassed, the one thing a Spanish vessel could not do would be to find opportunities to shell American coast towns.

"To think any one or any number of Spanish vessels that may reach Cuban waters can freely steam some 1,200 to 2,000 miles more and so occupy themselves is to think something quite absurd. The scare is causeless. If Spain ever gets any vessels across the Atlantic, keeping them afloat and in coal and out of the way of the American men-of-war will use up all her energies. At present the handful she has ready for sailing are some 3,700 miles away in distance and weeks in time, and are more likely to return to the Canaries than to venture toward Porto Rico and the American fleet.

What's the Matter in Raleigh?

A postal card received by J. J. Stone from a party in Raleigh reads as follows:

Dear Sir:—I would be very glad if you would send me the by-laws of fire companies—the by-laws that will keep firemen from public duty.

Very Respectfully,

The writer evidently fears that he will be called upon to enter the military service.

INDIGNATION IN LONDON.

Because of The Attempt to Mob The English Consul.

GERMANY AND FRANCE PROTEST

Engagement Between Spanish Gun Boat and American Torpedo Boat Reported From Madrid.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

London, April 20—There is much indignation expressed here because of the attempt by Spaniards to mob the English consul at Santiago de Cuba, yesterday. The incident has been the immediate cause of creating the most intense anti-Spanish feeling.

UNCLE SAM DOUBTS THIS.

London, April 30—It is officially announced from Madrid that a Spanish gun boat and an American torpedo boat had an engagement off Cardenas yesterday. The report says the gun boat was successful.

STILL AT GIBRALTAR.

Gibraltar, April 30—Several Spanish torpedo boats are still cruising in these waters.

LOOKING FOR MERCHANTMEN.

Four Spanish torpedo boats are prowling about in the English channel today looking for American merchantmen.

TO PROTEST.

Paris, April 30—It is said by what is considered reliable authority, that Germany and France are considering the matter of sending a joint note to the United States in which they will protest against the seizure of the Philippine Islands by McKinley's government.

NOTES FROM HIGH POINT.

The Local News from Our Neighbor Briefly Told.

Miss Henryanna Hackney is spending the day in Greensboro.

Dr. Messrs. J. M. Sechrest and W. E. Johns returned last night from a three days fishing trip reporting a "gay" time.

Dr. F. C. Frazier, of Trinity, was in the city today.

Miss Donna Burns and Mr. Le Roy Earnhardt are spending the day in Greensboro.

Mrs. Dr. J. W. Long, of Salisbury, passed through this morning enroute to Randleman to see Miss Minnie Coltrane who is very sick.

C. M. Kirkman, of Greensboro, came up last night to see his brother who is night operator here.

Leslie Cartland and Emmet Sheppard, students of Guilford College, came home to spend a few days.

Misses Annie Ragan and Deborah Tomlinson, of Archdale, came up on their wheels yesterday.

Prof. and Mrs. Dred Peacock, of Greensboro Female College, passed throughh this morning to Trinity. Professor returned home on the noon train.

The Strawberry Festival.

The empty store room in the Benbow last night presented a most beautiful appearance. It was prettily decorated with United States flags, flowers and festooned with red, white and blue bunting and brilliantly lighted. The Ladies Aid Society of the First Presbyterian church served strawberriec there yesterday and last night. A number of Greensboro's prettiest young ladies had charge of the tables and a round sum was raised. The festival was a great success.

LADY OF LYONS.

Mr. Young and Company's Brilliant Presentation of This Drama.

The opera house was the scene last night of much patriotic enthusiasm, as well as the presntation by James Young and his excellent company of the Lady of Lyons. Mr. Young and the opera house management gave complimentary tickets to the Hornet's Nest Riflemen and the Queen City Guards. The soldier boys were out in full force and everything took on a military air. As the boys marched in the crowd present cheered Captain Robertson lustily.

Mr. Young has played here before and his appearance here again was looked forward to with much interest. The audience last night was not disappointed. They had expected a good play and they saw it.

* * * * * * *

During one of the encores Mr. Pierson and Mr. Young unfurled two large American flags, the band struck up Dixie and the audience cheered the flag and the tune to echo.

The minor parts were all played well. The company is a strong one.

It will present David Garrick tonight. A full house ought to greet the players. Those who miss hearing this company will miss a treat.—Charlotte Observer.

This company will appear here at the Academy of Music next Tuesday and Wednesday, May 3d and 4th. Tickets now on sale at Gardner's.

Customers, in our estimation, when they are sent to us on a trading errand, we always remember that they are not discriminating buyers, and we take special pains to see that they get what both you and they want.

Then we always try to be prompt in waiting on them, there is always a little worry at home when they are sent upon an errand and stay too long, often though no fault of their own.

If Austria be wise she will content herself with the troubles she already has.

Americans evidently believe that the best way to hit a thing is to shoot straight at it.

It must be remarked that considering the abundance of the opportunity Spain is remarkably slow about preserving her honor.

The Caucasian of this week goes after the Progressive Farmer with gloves off. All democrats who wish to see Turk meet Turk can now put on an old suit of clothes that they won't mind throwing away after it's all over, form a big ring around and enjoy the fun.

Put all the flags at half-mast. Muffle the drums. Let the octopi come out and sun themselves. Patriotism is dead. The faithful have fallen by the wayside. They've "bought us" again. The Caucasian says:

The Caucasian has just learned that for several months a lot of ready made editorials for Populist papers have been gotten up in Washington City and mailed out from there to certain Populist papers over the country.

There is no longer anything to live for. The light has been put under a bushel. The only lamp that remains to guide the feet of the faithful is the Caucasian. It alone remains unbought—are its figures too high?

Henry Watterson, speaking to the toast of the "Reunited Sections" on the occasion of Grant's birthday, said:

I have respect for the principle of international adjustment through moral suasion and mutual concession. I have respect for the principle of approved capability and fitness in the matter of appointments to office. But when a gentleman in gold-rimmed specs and a swallow-tailed coat, standing with one foot on arbitration and the other upon civil service reform, solemnly assures me that he has discovered perfectibility in government, I take leave to have my doubts about it. I am grown so pessimistic, indeed, as to think that the one thing that we do not want, the one thing which would certainly disappoint us in case we got it, is the dreamer's idea of the ideal. Ideals, which exist for reformers, lovers and poets, exist not for men and women.

There are few men in this country who have had a wider experience of men and events and few who have observed them to better purpose than Henry Watterson. Mr. Watterson uttered herein a literal and pungent truth. Others beside Mr. Watterson have begun to doubt whether the predominance in public affairs of the "gentleman in gold-rimmed specs and a swallow-tailed coat" would mean the millenium. A tremendous amount of nonsense has gotten itself written and printed about universal peace of recent years. The gunner on the Terror to hit the pilot house of an enemy's tossing in the dark on a rough miles away, is quite as valuctor as the gentleman in goldecs, and undoubtedly the rican citizen finds quite e in him.

It might not be a bad idea for your Uncle Samuel to box the ears of Portugal for aiding and abetting Spanish cut-throats.

SATURDAY'S LITERARY CHAT.

[All books and magazines mentioned below may be had at Wharton's book store.]

The charm of Japan is perennial. It is almost the only part of the world left that is essentially poetic. Railroads, European dress, newspapers and rapid-fire guns have not been able to spoil it altogether. One hears with distinct pleasure that Japan is already beginning to be weary of her exotic civilization, and is tending backward to the old ideals. In the May number of the Cosmopolitan there is a delightful bit of Japan in "The Wistaria Shrine of Kameido." Harold Frederic, in the same issue, talks interminable sociological nonsense in his serial story, "Gloria Mundi." Brander Matthews has a queer story about a first wife who writes a letter to be given to her husband's second wife and then dies of heart disease and in due time her husband gets the second wife and the second wife gets the letter. If this comes to be a custom hard, indeed, would be the lot of widowers. Other papers are "An Autobiography of Napoleon Bonepart," several readable stories, The Profession of Motherhood, and a very creditable poem by Paul Laurence Dunbar, the negro poet.

***

Scribner for May is a rather poor number. Richard Harding Davis, the laureate of snobbery, has the second part of his serial story, "The King's Jackal," in which Mr. Davis himself, more or less worked over, thrusts himself between the heroine and a menagerie of heavy villains. "The New Reporter," is a story tracing the progressive degeneration of a young man with some respect for the decencies who turned reporter on one of the New York dailies. Walter A. Wyckoff continues his remarkable experiences in the army of the unemployed. Frost has a series of bicycle pictures that are exceedingly well executed, the only criticism being that his bicycles are not '98 models. Mr. Thomas Nelson Page's "Red Rock," another phase of reconstruction days is vividly presented.

The scene of Willy Scully's new African romance, "Between Sun and Sand," is laid in a land of tent-dwelling "Trek-Boers." She says: "Immediately to the south of the great Orange river for 300 arid miles of its course before it sinks through the thirsty sands, or spooms in resistless torrent into the Atlantic Ocean, lies a region of which little is known, in which dwell people unlike any others in South Africa, or possibly in the world."

Gustavus III of Sweden is the central figure of M. E. Coleridge's "King with Two Faces." The attempted flight of Louis XVI is introduced, as well as the affairs of Fersen's fatherland.

A forthcoming British work on "Our Living Generals" will treat of the careers of Lords Wolseley and Roberts, Sir Donald Stewart, Sir George White, Sir Evelyn Wood, Sir Buller, Sir Baker Creed Russell, Sir William Butler, Sir Henry Brackenbury, Sir Francis Grenfell, Sir Frederick Carrington and Sir H. H. Kitchener.

***

In romance of Palestine, "Hassan: A Fellah," Dr. Henry Gillman has selected the present time for the story, but has drawn freely from all the rich treasures of the past for ornament. The pen portraits of the people are studies made upon the spot, and the description of Jerusalem and the surrounding country are word pictures of the land as it is today. The portions connected with the "Thar," or blood-feud between the Syrian villages and the insurrection in Crete are said to be intensely dramatic.

A Meeting and Resolutions of the Colored Ministers Union.

The ministers union of Greensboro, North Carolina, composed of every colored pastor of our city held their annual session at St. Matthews chureh. They were in session two days and among some of the pieces, etc., rendered the sermon of Rev. A. J. Tate is worthy of praise, as well as the masterly piece of work of Rev. S. S. Leveir, on "Preachers the Leaders of the People." Rev. P. J. Jordan's paper of "Union" was scholarly as well as logical.

At the closing of the convention last night the following resolutions were adopted by the entire audience, and Dr. J. E. Dellinger, D. J. Gilmer and D. B. Yancey were authorized to call a meeting of colored citizens in order to get volunteers. Every preacher verbally volunteered last night. The following are the resolutions:

Whereas the Governments of the United States and the Kingdom of Spain have each declared war against the other and whereas a state of war does now and has existed since the 21st day of April 1898, between the governments aforesaid, and whereas further we believe that in the inhuman warfare carried on by Spain in Cuba and in the destruction of the battleship Maine and the murder of the 266 men of her crew, the government of United States is justifiable in her ultimatum to Spain and upon the refusal of the Spanish government to yield to the demands therein couched, the United States is right in her attempt to demand the acceptance of her ultimatum by force of arms, therefore be it

Resolved, First—That we do hereby renew our allegiance to the government of the United States and pledge her our most loyal support during this crisis.

Resolved, Second—That while we deplore the fact of war, as a peace loving race and people, but now that the war is upon us, we believe it to be the duty of every citizen to stand loyally by his country and her flag, without regard to race, political creed or section of the country.

Resolved, Third—That in pursuance of the foregoing we urge that a meeting of the citizens of Greensboro and Guilford county be called forthwith, having for its object the organization of a company of colored volunteers, who shall be ready to take up arms and go to the front at the call of the President of the United States.

Mr McBride Holt says:

Graham, N. C., July 16, 1897.
Oneida Cotton Mills:
About two and a half years ago my little boy about 4 years, and my little girl about two years, each had an enlargement of the glands about the ears. The trouble appearing on each about the same time, I was inclined to think it mumps, but soon observing to the contrary, I called in the doctor, who said the trouble came from colds, prescribing accordingly, yet swelling continued to grow until each had to hold for the lance, the little boy having been lanced in three places and at three times, his face at times looking alarming. The nature of the trouble was termed one thing by one and another thing by another. This, however, did not concern me, as I was looking for a cure, and Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy having been called to my attention so often and so favorably, I dropped the treatment from the doctor and commenced to use Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy. To say that the results obtained have been satisfactory is putting it in mild terms, the children, and especially the little boy being entirefy well, yet wearing the scars that will ever keep fresh in my memory the merits of Mrs. Joe Person,s Remedy. Respt.

General News in a Nutshell.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer prints in a prominent place the fable about the boys who cried "A Wolf! A Wolf" and it points the moral as follows; "A liar is not believed when he tells the truth." All of which is respectfully referred to the red headed yellow kid, sensational journals of the day."

Berlin is fast becoming a noiseless city. Railway engines are not allowed to blow their whistles within the city limits; there is no loud crying of wares by hucksters; a man whose wagon gearing is loose and rattling is subject to fine, and even piano playing is regulated by restriction to certain hours of the day.

The business-like managers of the Trans-Mississippi Exposition to be held at Omaha, are already charging a fee of 15 cents for admission to the grounds where over a thousand men are at work putting up the buildings.

The paper faked for fools, says a New York publication, "sent to one of the theatres on Tuesday evening a bulletin relating its latest fake, and an actor read it to the audience, which laughed. The actor then said: "A pipe dream!' Player folks slang is difficult to understand sometimes, but that was expressive, lucid and truthful."

At least two hundred million steel balls for ball bearings, were imported into this country last year. Most of them came from Schweinfurt, Germany, where the largest manufactory of steel balls in the world is located.

Kansas has a statute, probably framed for the Mennonites, which provides that if a man shall make affidavit with the county clerk before May 1 of any year to the effect that his religion forbids an enlistment for war he cannot be drafted. The Mennonites have religious scruples against war, and they are flocking to the county seats to get their certificates.

Several society girls of Wellington, Kan., have volunteered to go to Cuba as army nurses; but the local paper observes that when their little brothers stub their toes they still have to go to their mothers for bandages.

A well-known English scientist in illustrating the rapidity of thought says that "if the skin be touched repeatedly with light blows from a small hammer, the brain will distinguish the fact that the blows are separate and not a continuous pressure even, when they follow one another as rapidly as one thousand in a second."

An interesting collection of portraits of the ministers who have represented the United States in England, originally brought together by James Russel Lowell, occupies a prominent place in the room of Ambassador Hay at our Embassy in London. The series begins with the first minister appointed after the Revolutionary war, and ends with Ambassador Bayard.

Count Waldersee, Germany's recently appointed Inspector General of Cavalry, has just received a gold medal of honor from the Hamburg senate. The Count's new position is a post of honor similar to that occupied by the late Prince Frederick Charles after the war of 1870.

ENTERTAINMENT AT GUILFORD.

By the Henry Clay to Members of the Philagorean.

Special to the Telegram.

Guilford College, April 29th.

The Philagorean Literary Society was given a special entertainment by the members of the Henry Clay Literary Society last night in the spacious hall of the Clays. The debate was good and quite above the standard in oratory. The music given by the Clay Glee Club was very nice and deserves applause.

E. K. Stone was the star actor of the occasion. He represented Dr. "Puff Stuff," a patent medicine man and big words flowed freely.

A souvenir bow of white and royal purple ribbon, the Clay colors, was given each one just after the literary part of the program was over. The young men then made use of the remaining few minutes by talking to the young ladies.

The baseball team has gone to Oak Ridge today. Petty has a wrenched back and may not pitch the game.

The Grandest Remedy.

Mr. R. B. Greeve, merchant, of Chilhowie, Va., certifies that he had consumption, was given up to die, sought all medical treatment that money could procure, tried all cough remedies he could hear of, but got no relief; spent many nights sitting up in a chair; was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery, and was cured by use of two bottles. For past three years has been attending to business, and says Dr. King's New Discovery is the grandest remedy ever made, as it has done so much for him and also for others in his community. Dr. King's New Discovery is guaranteed for coughs, colds and consumption. It don't fail. Trial bottles free at C E. Holton's drug store.

Notice

At the annual sale of Registered Jersey Cattle from Occoneechee Farm, April 7, 1898, I bought the thoroughbred Jersey Bull No. 3, Romola's chief, 41425 A J C C., sire Meridale Buffer 31346. Dam Romola of Beverly 47960. Romola is one of the best Cows at Occoneechee farms. Her dam was imported. The sire, Meridale Buffer is from dam Meridale coquette, 64535, whose record at two years old in one week was 17 pounds butter. Her grand dam was Ida of St. Lambert, who made 30 pounds butter in one week and milked 67 pounds in one day. The grand sire of Meridale Buffer is Ida's Rioter of St. Lambert. This is is a great Bull, standing for years at the head of Miller-Sibleys herd. Also carries the blood of Matilda 4th, 60 pounds milk in a day and 26 pounds butter in a week, Stoke Pogis and Stoke Pogis 3rd. Will stand at my stable near Finishing Mills.

There are others, plenty of them who talk of bargains, but D. Bendheim & Sons claim that you will find their prices by far the lowest. Newest styles in all goods. Read their new announcement for Monday's sale.

Today has been a good one with the dry goods merchants of Greensboro. The Telegram was asked about the places of business of several advertisers by parties who came up on Russell's excursion. Directions were gladly given.

Lieutenant Marshall, of the United States army, who has been stationed at Danville, Va., was at the Benbow last night. Mr. Marshall had been ordered to duty at Raleigh and is on his way to that place. He will have charge of the commisary department.

Auction Sales.

On Monday, May 16th, at the court house door in Greensboro, Wharton & McAlister will offer one or more desirable lots for sale at public auction. If this sale proves satisfactory they propose to have regular sales on the first and fourth Mondays of each month.

For the most part the property thus offered will be that of parties who have left the city and are willing to sell at a sacrifice. Some have already authorized them to sell at auction and a number of others will do so.

No by-bidding will be allowed and all lots offered will be put up in good faith and with two bids are guaranteed to go. They desire that any one expecting to bid shall have an opportunity to examine property prior to the sale and therefore have fully described the same in their ad. which appears on first page of this issue.
